

DREW HILL | SPEAKING RATES

1 hour (or less) talk: Suggested honorarium of $500 - $1,000

2-4 hour seminar: Suggested honorarium of $1500 - $2,000

Weekend retreats (3-4 talks): Suggested honorarium of $3000 - $5,000

Weeklong camps (5-6 talks): Suggested honorarium of $5000 - $10,000

Since we now have five children, Natalie and I have realized that in order for me to continue to take time away from our family and my day job, I needed to ask for honorariums that would make it worth the sacrifice that's required in preparing talks and being out-of-town. I realize these suggested rates may be out of reach for some budgets and I'm happy to chat and see if we can make something work. When I come to speak at your event, I'm "all yours" during the time I'm with you. If you book me for the day, feel free to fill the day with anything I can do to serve you and your ministry. I'm happy to meet one-on-one with folks, lead worship, wash dishes, etc...

In addition to the honorarium, hosts are asked to cover travel expenses, which I work hard to keep to a minimum. If the speaking engagement is less than a 4-hour drive from Greensboro, NC, I ask that you cover mileage (.55/mile). If it's over 4-hours, I typically prefer to fly to limit time away from my family. If the event is too late for me to be able to arrive home by midnight, I also ask that you cover a hotel room.

I do enjoy bringing family members along, if the engagement is suitable. When traveling for multiple days, I ask the host organization to cover the travel cost for me to also bring at least one family member with me. Often our oldest daughter, Honey, will join me and her presence is an added bonus for all the hosting organizations. She's amazing!

Travel expenses are based on the lowest non-stop economy class airfare from Greensboro, NC, plus ground transportation. I try hard to find the best deals possible. Events that require travel across more than one time zone from Greensboro generally need to be at least two days in duration, a minimum of $1000/day.
